

Publication requirements

Publication in the conference book of IDK2025 is only available for applicants meeting the following criteria:

- The author or a co-author gave the presentation/poster-presentation of the research published in this paper. The manuscript will not be published in the conference book if the work was not presented at the conference.
- A participant can be the first author of only one manuscript. Naturally, the author may occur as co-author in other manuscripts as well.
- The author should organize the review of the manuscript prior to submission – only those articles will be published that had been reviewed prior to submission. The reviewer should hold at least a doctoral degree (PhD or DLA) and he can neither be the member of the same research group as the author nor his supervisor. The reviewer has to complete a reviewing form, attached to this letter, that should also be submitted along with the reviewed manuscript. The name and institution of the reviewer will be listed at the end of the publication in the conference book. If the reviewer does not agree to his name appearing in print, the manuscript will not be published.

General guidelines
